Who Can Be a Jobie-to-Bee?

A Jobie-to-Bee (JD2B) is a young girl, age 8-9, who is not yet old enough to join Job's Daughters. As a JD2B, you are welcome at most activities, make friends with all the girls in the group, and discover positive role models in these girls. You may be given a big sister to turn to with questions.

As a JD2B, you may be given a sash or other item that shows you are waiting to become a member.

Let's Connect

Jobie-to-Bees

OF JOB'S DAUGHTERS INTERNATIONAL ®

"Though she be but little, she is fierce."

- Shakespeare

What do you do as a Jobie-to-Bee?

Make New Friends

You will have the opportunity to work as part of a team and meet girls outside of your school and neighborhood.

Travel

You can travel around your city, state, and even the country to meet other members from around the world!

Service

You will learn that Job's Daughters has a charity called HIKE that helps kids with hearing loss.

Gain Confidence

You will be given the opportunity to break out of your shell in a safe and supportive environment.

Learn more at jobsdaughtersinternational.org/jobie-to-bee